"A great many communications from serving soldiers are received at National Defence Headquarters addressed direct to the Minister of National Defence, to the Secretary, and other officers at Defence Headquarters.

Quite apart from the irregularity of this procedure, delay ensues in dealing with the questions raised in these communications, as, in nearly every case, the matter has to be referred back to the District or Unit concerned to obtain the requisite information.

In nearly every case, the subject of the communication could more readily be dealt with locally.

"Communications received have in no way been confined to complaints, but have included ideas to assist in the Conduct of the War.

All ranks, are, therefore, to be informed of the correct procedure for bringing to notice of higher authority any matters whether it be complaint or otherwise.

It is to be impressed on officers and N.C.O.s that it is their duty to give proper attention and careful consideration to all matters brought to their notice by those under their command, and in the case of complaints that the officer or other rank concerned is duly paraded in accordance with Sections 42 and 43 of the Army Act and notes thereto.

Officers and other ranks are to be informed that direct communication with higher authority except through the immediate superior concerned is forbidden.

This order will be brought to the notice of all recruits, and will be published in Unit Orders from time to time.

While correspondence posted by troops on active service overseas is exempt from postage, this provision extends only to correspondence posted by troops in "an actual theatre of war".
